

These are unprecedented times and the disruption in supply chain has been felt in every industry. For many, the Covid-19 pandemic has placed never before used products at the top of the list for mission-critical supply requirements.

To meet this new demand, Source Atlantic has established a Covid-19 supply chain task force to help source these critical items in an effort to keep our customers' supply chains intact while allowing them to safely continue their operations.

In addition to our regular industrial supply inventory, we now also have the following Covid-19 related supplies in stock at our Mount Pearl location – surgical-style masks, hand sanitizer, disinfectants, face shields, disposable clothing and nitrile gloves. As of May 11, we will also have a stock of KN95 masks and non-contact temperature measuring cameras.
